Susan G. Komen 3-Day for the Cure® Raises $4.1 million

This past August, 1,500 women and men hit the streets for the Susan G. Komen Michigan 3-Day for the Cure. This year, more than $4.1 million was raised at the Michigan 3-Day for the Cure! Funds raised impact breast cancer research and community-based breast health and education programs. (As a Host City, Komen Detroit receives significant funds for community grants awarded annually.)

The 2012 Michigan 3-Day for the Cure will be held August 17-19. We know a three-day, 60-mile event can seem daunting. But we also know that you have everything you'll need to complete this journey inside you already — your belief and conviction in a world without breast cancer.

The experience of a lifetime is just around the corner. Take the first step and register for 2012 today.
